with Y2K so close it's been confirmed that all electronic forms of communication regarding the heroic leaders of the millenium rebellion FREEBAL are to be disregarded as tampered with, false, and all out media of the conspirators.

That of the here immedium of xeroxed mindset is the only format with which the before mentioned protagonists can speak and spread all the cutting edge knews.

I, A.C. pronounce that decent venues for such an obtuse show that we like to give lessens as we grow, thus the need to produce this mini zine newsletter to keep our cohorts on the latest truths prolonging our endangered right to walk, rock, and talk together with an understood set vocabulary of decoded non sense.

Freeball members AC. Galore and the Tijuana Viper are NOT stage names, but rather, the alter egos we succumb to when we enter the storming fourth D of audio performance.

In effect we drop the drawers of our boorish egos of personal life & social interaction in the brutal context of P.C. we become heroic statues that make NO apologies and lash out epic masterpieces of Power Sex & DEATH.

BEST FREEBALL SHOWS This SEASON
I'd say it, s...:'

best freeball shows this season: I'd say it's a toss up between the exclusive FRED P OTTS experience and the garage in suburbia.

the p. otts show was rock star heaven full force unleashed frolic, great butt wiggle n giggling freeball'n groove. Dessert was the tastiest-ac galore is lifted (by an unknown force, much like the xfiles shit) backwards over the railing onto the stairsback & flips into the crowd and the crowd was insane.

the garage show was super too (only thing that stuck a fork

The Viper was born in San Diego Ca. and raised as a grape farmer. Shattering his parents hopes of Some day owning the family farm. The Viper moved to Tijuana to pursue his dreams of becoming Mexico's greatest wrestling athlete. This dream took him five years of intense training to accomplish. His Fame quickly spread to all ends of the universe. A struggling con-man named Matt Barr, upon hearing about The Viper, quickly cooked up an elaborate scheme and was off to Tijuana. Months later while in the midst of defeating Brutus Beefcake The Viper was Kidnapped and taken to Kansas City Mo. where he was drugged, molested, and forced to learn how to play folk music to ponies and poodles. Now 10 years later THE TIJUANA VIPER sets out on a world tour performing all he now know: in hopes of escaping the talons of his manager Matt Barr, and returning to Tijuana to reclaim his belt and title as Mexico's greatest Wrestler!!!!!!!!!!!! (T.J. world tour sponsored by PBS)

Stage Fright is a term experienced by the sophomore and naive. Freeball, both being educated in the 4-D act known as performance, know the energies inherent in being on stage as electrifying and quite altering.

Several approaches can be taken to forging an act that will be displayed while in the ego altering "lime light". To deny the transformation is an exercise in futility, to succumb is a practice of the adventurous.

The power of the stage has birthed and erected many disgusting movements and movements. Emo-Rock was a fantastic example of the horrifying perversions capable: young men channeling the energy of stage to pervert their boring tough egos into the ego of one whose feelings are important enough to be displayed through the medium of "music" in boorish whaling anthems of self righteousness. Or the 3rd grader who is asked to solo in music class and as the power surges into their body of being in the lime light, they are scared shitless, and hate it.

H.G.P.

This song was inspired by the movie "The Apostle" (samples from the movie) while heavily religious our awe lie in one mans belief in his own conquest. The new Ace of spades twist towards the conclusion of the song has replaced the popcorn to parry all the Bible beaters.

RISER crection anthem to shut up all machoists. A ballad of limitation. This is the only song that's been w/us since day-

DEATH DRAMA "the death scene is a relic of the past" - Adam

TIGER TRAP A NEW mood piece, a keyboard DUEL. This one is rare live in that it's require mood setting can ONLY evolve from a lengthier set. Debuted at a 2-person audience show, both viewers reported it's the hottest slice.
